

Gianfranco Parati

MD, FESC

University of Milano-Bicocca.
IRCCS, Istituto Auxologico Italiano, S. Luca Hospital

Head, Dept Cardiology St Luca Hospital, Milan; Scientific Director, Istituto Auxologico Italiano, Milan; Professor of Cardiovascular Medicine, University of Milano-Bicocca, Milan, Italy. Past President, Italian Society of Hypertension. Past President, ESH working groups on Blood pressure monitoring and blood pressure variability. Liaison Officer, Nucleus Board of ESC Council on Hypertension. Secretary general, WHL. Bjorn Folkow 2015 Award as Top European Investigator in hypertension pathophysiology. Executive Editor of the Journal of Hypertension and Associate Editor of Hypertension Research. Coordinator of a number of international research projects dealing with: masked hypertension worldwide (MASTER Study); cardiovascular effects of altitude exposure (HIGHCARE PROJECTS on Europe Alps, Himalaya and Peruvian Andes); space research on microgravity (NASA ,ESA); blood pressure measurement and education on non-communicable diseases in Africa (Uganda, Zambia); digital health and mobile health through development of a validated application for smartphones. Publications: >900 papers (H. Index 86; Total citations 36197).